PROBLEMS—City service personnel had to attach an eight-foot extension on this parking meter base in front of Hanley's Bar Tuesday to anchor it into the ground. The six-inch concrete sidewalk there covers the basement in front of the building. Work crews will also have to decide the course of action to take in front of Smith's Market, where they uncovered a cistern while trying to relocate parking meters to allow more parking space. City Service Director Atwood Jones hopes to get his crews off Main St. by the weekend. Parking meters still have to be placed on Pickaway St., and the crews have the summer street patching job ahead of them.

Council Discusses Street Lights For Garden City Area

Street lights for the Garden City subdivision will cost the city of Circleville about $1,000, Atwood Jones, director of public service, told Circleville City Council Tuesday.

Jones had conducted a preliminary survey of the area at the request of council when a petition signed by the residents of the area seeking street lights was presented two weeks ago at the regular meeting.

Jones said the cost is $60 per year per light on a wooden pole, and he believed about 16 lights will be needed in the area to properly illuminate intersections, cul de sacs and dark areas. If metal poles are used, he said the cost would probably be higher.

Severe Weather Hits Central U.S.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Thunderstorms roamed the nation's midsection from Texas to the Great Lakes again today after hammering a wide area with tornadoes, wind, rain and hail.

At least four persons were dead and numerous others were treated for minor injuries as a result of the storms Tuesday and into the night.

A continuing storm in the West heaped heavy snow into Utah and Wyoming. As much as 22 inches buried sections of central Utah, blocking highways, closing schools and causing a major power and telephone outage.

Twenty-one tornadoes were reported by the National Weather Service in Texas, Arkansas, Iowa, Illinois, Minnesota and Michigan. As was the case Monday, however, most of the damage was caused by ordinary high winds and not twisters.

Severe electrical storms were the rule, along with the winds and hail, in many areas of the Midwest. One person died in Missouri when struck by lightning while jogging during the dinner hour. A man in Illinois died when a crane he was operating at a construction site was hit by lightning. Two co-workers were hospitalized with injuries.

Two men died after a storm swept the Chicago area late Tuesday afternoon, one when a downed live wire hit him and another when he fell from a ladder after an electrical wire nudged him.

Mobile homes and mobile-home parks were hard hit. Six persons were injured in the Chicago suburb of

He also pointed out that easements would have to be obtained to run the wire overhead from the back of the lots where the electric service is located.

Council's service committee will study the request for street lighting and make a recommendation at the next council meeting June 3 David Crawford said.

In his report to council, Jones also said the application for flood insurance eligibility for Circleville will be filed and a team of investigators would be sent to the city to complete a study of the need and the areas where it will be needed.

Calumet Park as winds overturned trailer homes there. Thirteen mobile homes were destroyed at Lake Shannon, southwest of Chicago. Another 10 were smashed in a sales lot. No one was hurt in either case.

Three persons were hurt in the Springfield, Mo., area, two of them when winds overturned their mobile home. Several persons were injured at Columbia, Mo., where winds up to 68 miles per hour tore down tree limbs and caused extensive power outages.

In Illinois, wind gusts up to 120 m.p.h. hammered Dwight, southwest of Chicago, lifting roofs from several business buildings, shattering windows and flattening barns outside the town. Large trucks were tipped onto their sides along Interstate 55 near Dwight.

More than 2.5 inches of rain swamped Chicago during the storm which hit just before the evening rush hour. Numerous underpasses and inter sections were flooded by the sudden downpours.

At Marshall, Tex., more than 3.5 inches of rain fell in two storms. Nearly 2.5 inches drenched DeQueen, Ark., in only 20 minutes.

The storms broke out as temperatures soared near or above 90 for the third day in a row over the Midwest, Plains and parts of the East.

In the West, winds up to 60 m.p.h. accompanied heavy snow at Rock Springs, Wyo.

Fruit growers in Utah expressed concern because of the unusually late snow and freeze conditions, and some feared loss of their entire crop.

Scholarship Winner Announced

DEBRA J. NICHOLS

An Ohio University Achievement Scholarship has been awarded to Debra J. Nichols, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Nichols, Route 1, Kingston.

A senior at Logan Elm High School, Miss Nichols will be able to renew her scholarship for up to four years. The award covers half her tuition.

Achievement scholarships are based on merit and not on need. Awardees must rank in the upper 10 per cent of their graduating class, have outstanding precollege test scores and have considerable participation in extracurricular activities.

Miss Nichols is a member of the National Honor Society and the Scholarship Team. She also has been a member of the Girls Athletic Association, the band and secretary of the Methodist Youth Fellowship. She plans to major in mathematics.

Ford Finds Re-Election Strategy

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford appears to have found a "non-political" strategy for getting an early start on his promised 1976 campaign by embracing the role of "Bicentennial President."

Ford assumed the Bicentennial mantle twice in three days this week, before markedly different audiences in Philadelphia and Charlotte, N.C. In each case the results could only have heartened the President and his political advisers.

These appearances also offered Ford a large bonus in the form of enthusiastic applause for his handling of the Mayaguez incident.

If the reaction in Pennsylvania and North Carolina reflected the national mood, this would be no week for anyone to be campaigning against Gerald R. Ford.

But the Mayaguez incident aside, Bicentennial festivities present Ford with unique opportunities to show himself to the voters in a nonpartisan role. More important, perhaps, crowds are large and ready-made. And, with jarring exceptions, a 4th of July spirit of flag-waving patriotism is in the air.

Authorities in Charlotte estimated 50,000 or more shirt-sleeved Carolinians turned out in a holiday mood to hear Ford talk Tuesday about a need for national rededication to the principles of the American revolution.

ROUNDTOWN

THE American Freedom Train will pull into Columbus' Defense Construction Supply Center, 4200 E. Broad St., tomorrow where it will join 40 acres of exhibits and daily, continuous live entertainment until June 2.

One of the show case cars of the train carries the twice than actual size replica of the Liberty Bell and the other contains a series of wheeled vehicles depicting the history of American transportation.

Each of the 10 other exhibit cars will have four giant windows dedicated to a decade in the Nation's 200 year history.

Opening ceremonies will be held at 10 a.m. Thursday. The train will be open to the public daily from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m.

THE State Highway Patrol's Driver Examination Station will be closed on Monday in celebration of Memorial Day. Regular hours will resume on Tuesday.

Weather

Partly cloudy, warm and humid with chances of afternoon and evening thundershowers today, and Thursday. High both days, upper 80s. Fair tonight, low, low 60s. Probability of precipitation, 30 per cent through Thursday. Temperatures Tuesday were: high, 87; low, 65.

Cartel To Hike Crude Oil Price

WASHINGTON (AP) — Administration officials expect the cartel of oil-exporting nations to impose a petroleum price increase of 10 to 15 per cent by the end of the summer, a move that could provide more trouble for the U.S. economy.

A Federal Energy Administration spokesman said today that "all indications point to that sort of price rise by OPEC" — the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries.

The administration's expectations were made known after the House Rules Committee abruptly suspended action Tuesday evening on a congressional energy conservation measure. The committee was to schedule the bill for House floor action today but instead put the matter over until after Congress comes back from its Memorial Day recess on June 2.

Committee Chairman Ray J. Madden, D-Ind., said Democratic leaders had informed him it was "impossible to pass this bill in two days." The controversial bill boosting gasoline taxes faced more than 100 amendments on the floor.

Reps. Herman T. Schneebeli, R-Pa., ranking minority member of the House Ways and Means Committee, and John B. Anderson, R-Ill., quickly predicted the delay will prompt Ford to impose a second $1-a-barrel tariff hike.

Ford said last month he would raise the tariff if Congress failed to make progress on an energy bill before going on the recess.

The FEA official said the indications that led to the administration's predictions about OPEC prices included recent official statements by oil-exporting nations and the fact that OPEC's previously announced price freeze ends in September.

Worldwide oil prices now range from $10 to $11 a barrel. Before the Arab oil embargo began in October 1973, the price was around $3.60. That increase was blamed by many economists for the later surge in world inflation which in turn was at least partially responsible for the current recession.

Hikes of 10 to 15 per cent would raise the price from $1 to $1.65 a barrel.

Memorial Services Planned Monday By Veterans' Groups

Roy Nungester will serve as Grand Marshall of the 1975 Memorial Day parade in Circleville, according to Trustees of the Monumental Association. A veteran of the Vietnam conflict, Nungester sustained combat wounds which left him paralyzed from the waist down.

The ceremonies will begin Monday with a flag raising ceremony at Memorial Hall by World War I veterans at 8:45 a.m. and will conclude with firing squad services at Soldiers' Glen and Floral Hills.

Master of Ceremonies is James P. Shea, Edgar Haynes is in charge of grave flagging, and Harold Hoffman is the program director.

Circleville Mayor Frank Barnhill will present the Memorial Day address at Soldiers' Glen and the Rev. Eugene Flowers will give the invocation and benediction.

Following the initial flag raising ceremony, the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and National Guard will conduct services at the High Street Cemetery at 9 a.m.

The traditional Memorial Day parade will form on the north side of E. Main St. at the Memorial Hall at 9:15 a.m. for the 9:30 parade from the hall to Soldiers' Glen in Forest Cemetery.

The Logan Elm High School Band will perform "The National Anthem" to open ceremonies at Soldiers' Glen, followed by the invocation and musical selections by the Circleville High School Band.

Following the address by Mayor Barnhill, the Circleville Junior High Band will perform.

The firing squad, officers, committee, and public will move to the Soldiers' burial lot following the benediction for the traditional salute to the dead and taps.

The VFW, American Legion Color Guard, and National Guard Firing Squad will then conduct services at Floral Hills.

Order of march for the parade, which will follow N. Court St. to the cemetery, is City Police, Sheriff's Deputies, and Highway Patrol, the Grand Marshall, Mixed Services Color Guard, American Legion and VFW Color Guard, National Guard Firing Squad, Circleville High School Band, YMCA Drill Team.

World War I and disabled veterans in autos, VFW and American Legion members, Veterans of all wars, VFW and American Legion Auxiliary members, Girl Scouts and Brownies, the Circleville Fire Department's antique fire truck,

Memorial services will be held at Reber Hill Cemetery 1:30 p.m. Memorial Day. The Teays Valley High School Band will furnish the musical part of the program. Speaker for the occasion will be the Rev. Starling Morrow of the Ashville-Hedges Chapel United Methodist Church Charge.

Prison Pickets Return At CCI

CHILLICOTHE, Ohio (AP) — Picket lines returned again this morning around the Chillicothe Correctional Institution.

Meanwhile, one of five unions at the Southern Ohio Correctional Facility near Lucasville considered proposals which could return some striking employees to that prison.

A spokesman for Council 4455 of the Communication Workers of America said picket lines at Chillicothe were posted at 4:17 a.m. Picketing was suspended late last week until the union obtained clarification of a Ross County Common Pleas Court order restricting picket lines at the facility.

The spokesman said picketing would be limited to two men at each entrance of the prison.

Probation Officer Arrested

Pickaway County Sheriff Dwight Radcliff arrested Juvenile Probation Officer Christopher P. Staten, 23, 210 1/2 S. Court St., Tuesday for the illegal possession of an hallucinogen.

Radcliff initiated an investigation after receiving a complaint Monday from Rio Grande College concerning Staten and the reckless operation of a county-owned vehicle at the college.

Staten had been at the college the last two weekends, once with permission to talk to classes but the second without permission according to the Sheriff.

Rio Grande authorities came to the Pickaway County Department to talk to Radcliff and Judge Guy Cline about the incident with Staten also called to the conference. Staten admitted to the reckless operation of the auto at the campus, but claimed he was not driving it at the time.

Judge Cline ordered that the auto and keys be returned to him. Radcliff went to pick up the auto Tuesday when he found marijuana seedlings in the interior of the vehicle.

Obtaining a consent to search Staten's apartment, Radcliff also found marijuana seedlings and paraphernalia used in smoking. Staten admitted that the marijuana was his, Sheriff Radcliff said.

He gave a complete statement to Radcliff. Staten is being held in Pickaway County Jail and appeared in Municipal Court 1 p.m. today.

Judge Cline terminated Staten's position with the Juvenile Court May 20.

Members of the International Brotherhood of Corrections Officers, the largest union at the Southern Ohio Correctional Facility, received the proposals Tuesday from George F. Denton, director of the Department of Rehabilitation and Correction.

The state agreed to dismiss no additional workers, to make past dismissals effective in 30 days and to set up a special committee to consider worker appeals within that 30-day period, according to department spokesman Joseph Ashley.

He said the union representatives indicated a willingness to cross Lucasville picket lines and return to work.

Meanwhile, a third prisoner who escaped from Lucasville Sunday night was captured in a wooded area about 1 1/2 miles from the facility. Authorities said Ronald Carter, 26, of Cleveland, sentenced 11-30 years for armed robbery, had a bullet wound in his leg when caught.

Another union, the Ohio Civil Service Employees Association, meets today with Joseph M. Millious, chief of labor relations for the Department of Administrative Services, to discuss union representation of prison employees, one of two major causes of the strikes.

OCSEA says it meets the new state requirement of 30 per cent representation of the 3,150 eligible employees in the department, and it requested the meeting with Millious to prove it.

Department records indicate IBCO, with 558 members, is the only other union with a possibility of achieving the necessary 30 per cent.

Meanwhile, the strikes and concurrent prison break have prompted

Ford Slates European Journey

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford's main purpose in going to next week's NATO summit meeting in Brussels is to reassure the allies that U.S. support remains firm despite defeats in Indochina.

All heads of government except France's plan to attend, and sources here say President Valery Giscard d'Estaing may show up, depending on his reading of the public mood.

Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger, who will stop off in Paris early next week for energy and economics meetings, will have breakfast with Giscard May 27 to discuss France's NATO role. Currently there is more active French cooperation with the alliance than at any time since France formally withdrew from the military side a decade ago.

Ford plans individual sessions in Brussels with all 14 NATO governments and prime Minister Vasco Goncalves of Portugal. The forceful drive to the left in Lisbon troubles U.S. officials, particularly in regard to the alliance's military plans and secrets.

In his conferences with Premier Constantine Caramanlis of Greece and Premier Suleyman Demirel of Turkey, the President will reinforce U.S. interest in a Cyprus settlement.

Absentee Ballot Deadline Announced

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Voters seeking absentee ballots for the June 3 primary have until noon May 30 to apply to their local election boards, Secretary of State Ted W. Brown said Tuesday.

Brown listed the following as eligible for absentee ballots: persons 62 and older; the disabled; active duty servicemen, and those unable to vote on election day because of religious belief.

Markets

NEW YORK (AP) — News of a resurgence in consumer prices last month helped drive the stock market into a broad retreat today.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was down 5.71 at 824.78, and losers outstripped gainers by more than a 3-1 margin on the New York Stock Exchange.

The government reported as trading began that consumer prices climbed at a 7.2 per cent annual rate in April—twice the pace of March—cutting once again into workers purchasing power.

American Telephone & Telegraph led the Big Board's most-active list, down 1/2 at 49.

At the American Stock Exchange, the market value index dropped .44 to 86.93.

The NYSE's composite index was off .30 at 47.50.

Southland Royalty rose 2% to 50 on the Amex on bullish comment on the company's oil and gas interests by a financial columnist.

Three Men Sentenced To Prison Terms

Three men received prison terms this morning in Pickaway County Common Pleas Court. Judge William Ammer revoked the probation of two defendants and sentenced the third on two sets of charges.

Allan Sutton was charged with receiving stolen property while awaiting sentencing on charges of breaking and entering and grand theft. The court had ordered a pre-sentence investigation on the two charges when the third was filed.

This morning Sutton pleaded guilty to receiving stolen property and was sentenced on all three counts. Judge Ammer sentenced him to three concurrent terms of six months to five years each at the Ohio State Reformatory for Men at Mansfield.

Violation of probation charges were brought against Donald Dixon. He was placed on probation on Sept. 6, 1974 for breaking and entering and grand larceny. Since that time, he was charged with a second pair of breaking and entering and grand theft charges.

The court revoked his probation on the first two counts and reimposed two concurrent sentences of six months to five years at the Mansfield Reformatory. On the second two counts,

Judge Ammer sentenced Dixon to two more terms of six months to five years each.

He ordered the second two terms to run consecutively with each other and also to run consecutively with the first sentence. Therefore, Dixon faces a minimum term of 18 months and a maximum term of 15 years on the four charges.

Ralph Wolfe appeared on a charge of violation and four new charges brought to the court on bills of information. On March 12, he was placed on probation for theft and forgery. When the court authorities discovered the new charges against him, the charge of violation of probation was filed.

The court revoked Wolfe's probation also and reimposed the former sentence of six months to five years at the Mansfield Reformatory.

Two charges of breaking and entering and two of grand theft were heard. Wolfe was sentenced to four more terms of six months to five years each and the court ordered all terms to run concurrently. He was charged with the break-ins at the George McDowell Exchange School and the Jackson Elementary School.

Kent State Trial Jury Readied

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Attorneys sat in judgment on prospective jurors again today in the effort to empanel a jury to hear the civil damages trial stemming from the 1970 Kent State University shootings.

Eighteen possible jurors were excused Tuesday, leaving a tentative panel of seven women and five men.

U.S. District Court Judge Don Young excused eight prospective jurors, four of whom had said their opinions about who was responsible for the shootings made it unlikely they could deliberate solely on the basis of evidence presented in court.

truck for the city will be opened May 28 and for paving the south access to Ted Lewis Park on June 5, Jones announced.

Council President Joe Bell announced a public hearing will be held preceding Council's July 1 meeting concerning a request to rezone an area at the intersection of the Lancaster Pike and Pontius Lane.

James W. Ford, 512 S. Court St., requested the area be rezoned from AR-1 (apartment residential) to GB (General Business). He submitted his original request May 21, 1971, and at that time the planning and zoning commission set certain stipulations for Ford to follow before they would recommend the rezoning. Ford has agreed to the stipulations and planning and zoning has now recommended that council rezone the area. Notification by mail of all residents who live within 500 feet of the area is required, as is the public hearing.

Mayor Frank Barnhill reported he has received a communication from Shell Oil Co. indicating the city's offer to purchase the vacant filling station property on West Main Street is being directed through the proper channels. The city, upon the recommendation of acting fire chief Glenn Jones and safety director Ed Ebert, is seeking to acquire the property for use as a second fire station. A fire truck located there would provide the city access to the far west side and the south end if the railroad crossings were blocked by a train.

The mayor also reported on a seminar for mayors held at Quail Hollow Inn near Cleveland over the weekend that he attended. One of the matters discussed was pending legislation that cities be required to pay the prevailing wage of the community to their employees. The mayor pointed out there is no provision in the legislation to reimburse cities for any added expenses that might be incurred if the proposed bill becomes law.

Barnhill also noted that the county health department is investigating all complaints on weed growth, livestock within the city and other nuisances.

Chief of Police Robert Temple reported that 54 persons took civil service examinations for the various positions to be filled in the city. He also reported the LEADS communication equipment is now operational and invited members of council to stop by the department to see how it works.

The only ordinance presented to council involved the transfer of $300 from the gasoline and oil account to the materials and supplies account of the Fire Department. The ordinance was approved.

A letter of appreciation from John Adkins, president of the emergency medical rescue team, was read.

discussing it publicly.

Plaintiffs excused six possible jurors Tuesday, which left the plaintiffs with 12 more challenges permitted under ground rules established in pretrial conference. Plaintiffs excused two jurors Monday, first day of the trial.

The defense excused four potential jurors Tuesday, leaving 14 challenges. The defense excused two Monday.

Nine students wounded and parents of four students killed May 4, 1970, are seeking a money award for damages from Gov. James Rhodes, three former state officials and 40 former Ohio National Guardsmen.

A detailed check of court records Tuesday showed the plaintiffs are asking more than $46 million, $20.5 million in compensatory and $25.7 million in punitive damages. The check also turned up 14 suits which have been consolidated into the civil trial here. Judge Young had spoken in court of 13 suits.

Young's questions to jurors have centered on whether they could set aside media reports about the day guardsmen fired on students protesting U.S. military action in Cambodia and judge just the facts brought out in court.

The plaintiffs' spokesman, New York Attorney Joseph Kelner, has emphasized that the suit is not being brought against the state or the National Guard but against individuals. Rhodes' lawyer, R. Brooke Alloway, has objected repeatedly to Kelner's questions which have singled Rhodes out as a target of the suits.

Together, plaintiffs' and defense counsel have culled from the panel persons with above average association with military organizations or student life at the time of the shootings.

Rhodes attended for the second morning, sitting close to an exit through which he moved quickly when court recessed. He has sat chin on hand throughout the sessions, staring ahead impassively while plaintiffs' attorneys sought to make certain prospective jurors would not be afraid to find against a state's chief executive.

Malpractice Bill Passes In Florida

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) —

Florida doctors looked forward today to guaranteed insurance coverage and a reduction in patient lawsuits because of a medical malpractice reform act.

Gov. Reubin Askew, surrounded by smiling doctors and lawmakers, signed the measure into law Tuesday with the hope that it will "help us avert a crisis in the delivery of vital health care services in Florida."

Sponsors said the new Florida law represents the first comprehensive attack on the malpractice dilemma in the nation.

In California, where doctor protests over soaring malpractice rates have halted nonessential surgery in large portions of the state, the legislature is in special session. But it may be three months before bills attempting long-range solutions reach the governor's desk.

The New York legislature passed a bill this week designed to avert the collapse of medical malpractice insurance in the state by placing restrictions on patients' rights and setting up an insurance pool. The Tennessee legislature passed a similar bill this week.

And in Maryland, the state insurance commissioner Tuesday approved a 300 per cent boost in physicians' insurance rates to prevent cancellation of malpractice insurance until a state-created, doctor-run insurance company begins operation at the end of July.

But Rep. John Forbes, a chief architect of the Florida act, claims "no other state has taken such a far-reaching approach to this problem."

The two-pronged Florida law imposes a four-year statute of limitations on the filing of lawsuits and requires patients to take their claims to a mediation panel as a prerequisite to going into court. There formerly was no time limit for filing suits in Florida.

Rizzo Smashes Demo Machine

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Mayor Frank L. Rizzo has crushed the Democratic organization that had tagged him a "monster" and a "liar" and refused to endorse him for a second term because he supported Republican President Richard M. Nixon.

And Rizzo's smashing primary renomination Tuesday also swept in most of his candidates for City Council and judge, virtually guaranteeing him control of the powerful Democratic party machine that has run America's fourth largest city since 1952.

"The people of this city have shown the machine politicians that a man who worked for the people can be re-elected," said the 54-year-old former police commissioner who rocketed into politics on the law and order issue that brought him national recognition as a tough cop.

High Court Turns Down P & G Appeal

WASHINGTON (AP) — A suit by Procter and Gamble Co. that attacked the "patch-work pattern" of state and local regulations governing phosphate detergents was declined to be heard by the Supreme Court Monday.

As a result, a decision of the U.S. circuit court in Chicago stood, upholding Chicago's antiphosphate ordinance.

Although specifically asking for review of this decision, Procter and Gamble argued that similar ordinances and laws elsewhere "threaten in combination to destroy the national market for detergent products."

The Chicago ordinance prohibits the sale of detergents containing phosphates, as do ordinances in Dade County, Fla., and Erie County, N.Y., and some state laws. Some states, including Indiana and Michigan, limit phosphorous content. Indiana allows no more than a trace of phosphates in detergents, amounting to a virtual ban.

Antiphosphate ordinances have also been adopted in Cocoa Beach and Kissimmee, Fla., Bridgeton and Kennebunkport, Maine, and Painesville and Independence, Ohio.

The Chicago ordinance, like the others, was designed to control the growth of pollution-causing algae in adjacent waters.

EDITOR'S NOTE — Independence-minded pioneers from the back country of North Carolina met in May 1775 to put their anti-royalist feelings in writing — almost 13 months before the Continental Congress declared independence. Two hundred years later, their descendants are celebrating the occasion.

By ROBERT H. REID
Associated Press Writer
CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — Local historians will tell you that the gentlemen who penned the Declaration of Independence in July 1776 had been upstaged a year earlier by a minister, a tailor and a dozen others in a back country courthouse in North Carolina.

They insist that local patriots drafted the Mecklenburg Declaration of Independence on May 20, 1775, some 13 months before the Continental Congress declared independence.

Others, among them Thomas Jefferson, maintained the declaration was either a fabrication or at best the muddled recollection of senile old men a quarter-century later.

Despite the questions, the 200th anniversary of the supposed signing will be celebrated in Charlotte on May 19 and 20. Parades, religious ceremonies and a speech by President Ford are planned.

Although authenticity of the declaration may be in doubt, there is no question that the local populace — largely English, Scotch-Irish and German — was for independence.

Their inclination for independence arose from their being so far from the coastal centers of royal authority and by the sermons of the Rev. Alexander Craighead, who came to Mecklenburg County after being expelled from Maryland in 1758 for preaching separation.

The Rev. Mr. Craighead died in 1766, but many local leaders were reared on his railings at the crown and the Anglican Church.

Their contempt was returned by the royal government in New Bern, which viewed these countrymen as rabble whose quarrels with the Indians caused headaches for colonial administrators.

Frontier habits, such as polygamy and drunkenness, appalled refined royalists along the coast.

The spirit of revolution flickered briefly in the back country in 1771, when farmers in Alamance County 100 miles to the north rebelled against royal taxation. Mecklenburg County raised a militia to join the rebellion, but the revolt was quashed by the time they arrived.

As word of trouble between the crown and the New England colonists reached the back country, the Committee of Public Safety called a meeting of local leaders for May 19, 1775, in Charlotte.

One account says a resolution for independence was introduced at the onset of the meeting. Others say it was introduced late in the day after a messenger brought word of fighting at Lexington and Concord a month earlier.

They all agree that at 2 a.m. on the 20th, delegates declared themselves "free and independent people...under the power of God and the general Congress."

After reading the declaration to a crowd outside the courthouse, delegates adjourned. They returned on May 31 to draft articles of local government to supersede royal rule. The second document became known as the Mecklenburg Resolves.

Capt. James Jack was dispatched to carry the Resolves and the Declaration to North Carolina's delegation at the Continental Congress in Philadelphia.

When he arrived June 23, he found the delegation in no mind for revolution. The chairmen of the colony's delegation, Richard Caswell and William Hooper, were still hoping for reconciliation with the British. Capt. Jack was sent home.

Royal Gov. Josiah Martin sent a copy of the Resolves to England, saying they "surpassed all the horrid and treasonable publications that the inflammatory spirits of this continent have yet produced."

Since copies of the Resolves were printed in several contemporary publications, their authenticity is generally accepted.

The original copy of the declaration was supposedly destroyed in 1800 in a fire at the home of John Alexander, one of the signers.

Lack of an original document cast some doubt on its authenticity. Some historians believe Alexander and others confused the Resolves with a declaration and that the meetings produced only the Resolves.

Jefferson, in a letter to John Adams in 1819, wrote he had no doubt "the paper from Mecklenburg County of North Carolina is spurious."

Because of a similar phrasing in the Declaration of 1776 and the Mecklenburg document, Adams once accused Jefferson of plagiarism in drafting the 1776 document. Adams recanted the charge.

Those who accept the Mecklenburg document's authenticity argue Alexander and other supposed signers stated its existence nearly 20 years before their deaths and they were considered of sound mind.

Others claim that without the declaration, there would have been no need for the Resolves.

"When you don't have an original of anything, you're going to have people question the authenticity," said Grant Whitney, a leader of the bicentennial celebration. "This thing is deep in the feeling of the people of this community and I don't think it would have been so widely held if it were not true."

Free Market Attack

When bureaucrats make a mess of things they tend to foist the blame on someone else, and then suggest as a remedy more of the same type of policy which created the mess. That is precisely the formula suggested in the U.S. Senate by Sens. Hubert Humphrey and Jacob Javits to correct the nation's economic problems.

In introducing the "Balanced Growth and Economic Planning Act of 1975," the two senior members of the Joint Economic Committee announced their aim was to "reform" the free market system. They also acknowledged their proposed legislation would touch off "very violent objections" and "one of the most important debates we've ever had on the economic system."

Testifying in behalf of the proposed legislation, Leonard Woodcock, president of the United Auto Workers, stated the basic misconception behind the bill, when he said: "We have lived too long with boom and bust. Experience has taught us that the unseen magic of the so-called free market does not work."

Nonsense. No economic mechanism is as responsive to changing conditions or the needs of the consumer as the free enterprise system. The direct exchange between producer and buyer, each free to compete in other markets but each also subject to the progressive forces of active competition, produces the highest scale of economic efficiency — and consequently the highest living standards.

What is wrong with the free market system in the United States is that its natural reactions and interactions have been so interfered with by government obstacles, taxation, deficit financing and other economic mismanagement that the situation is comparable to a single locomotive trying to pull a fully-loaded 300-car freight train uphill.

The solution, according to those who have helped create the difficulties, is to add still more freight cars.

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Our 15-year-old son almost overnight has taken on a new personality. We don't know how to cope with his belligerence, stubbornness and irritability. Do we just wait until the period of adolescence is over and hope that he will straighten himself out?

A simple suggestion made by a doctor may be identical with the one made by the parent. Yet it will not create resentment because it does not have the parent's "command of authority."

When parents understand the reasons for a sudden shift in behavior patterns of children they find it easier to be patient and cope with the complexities of this age group.

Of course, extreme behavior changes may require psychological guidance. Both parents and their children can benefit at this time from the direction given to them by psychologists or psychiatrists. Their talents can very often reestablish a relationship that seems to be fragmented during the transitional period of adolescence.

What causes ridges across the thumbnail?

Miss G. E., Mo.

Dear Miss E.: Almost always this is due to injury to the cuticle. The indentations usually disappear when constant irritation to the cuticle is stopped.

On rare occasions, unusual ridging of the nails has significance in terms of some underlying medical problem. Incidentally, the color, the shape and the brittleness of the nail are of diagnostic importance to the physician.

Expression of these feelings is difficult, especially to their own parents. It is for this reason that a relatively new specialty of Adolescent Medicine has been born. Doctors trained in this specialty can take advantage of the teenager's routine visit to their offices for a physical check-up and encourage the expression of their patient's inner feelings.

No Quitters Abroad

By JIM BISHOP

"Laffey" looked pretty, easing north at 18 knots in an oily sea. She was 2,200 tons of destroyer (DD724). She was little more than a year old and yet had seen service, firing her 5-inch batteries at German shore batteries on D-Day, had sailed halfway around the world under Commander F. Julian Becton to fight in the battle of Leyte Gulf.

She drew Okinawa picket duty. Her complement of almost 300 men knew what it meant. It was said that an American destroyer off Okinawa had a life span of 30 minutes. In early April, 1944, the Japanese Imperial Command authorized Operation Kikusui ("Floating Crysanthemums").

A special squad of heroic Japanese pilots — 860 Navy, 605 Army — had agreed to stop the Americans by crashing bomb-laden planes into ships. Each pilot had enough gasoline for a one-way flight. Within a short time, the Americans were going to learn the meaning of courage beyond courage.

Ironically, the Japanese would learn the same lesson from the Americans. "Laffey" moved into station with one other DD and four light cruisers. They were far in front of the fleet as "spotters," to report Japanese ship and plane movements and to stand and die.

Dawn on April 16th was canary and pink in the East China Sea. "Laffey's" chaplain held morning services aft. The ship's bows were high and proud. A sailor told the chaplain privately that he had no backbone for this; he was scared.

"We're all scared," the chaplain said. "You'll have enough backbone." The sailor sat his iron seat abaft the second funnel and fingered his rapid-fire guns. He was terrified. It was too pretty a day to die; too late in the war to burst into tears — or to run below.

It was a quiet morning. At 6 a.m., the only blip on radar was LCS-51, astern to port. At 7, nothing. At 8:15 a.m., in darkness behind the bridge, the radar operator showed dots of light to the north. "Bogies," he said. Commander Becton ordered flank speed.

This time, "Laffey" would survive only if she could outskirmish and outthrust all the planes the Imperial Command could throw at her. U.S. Corsairs, making lazy circles, were departing when they received the code word.

In the history of war, no ship was hit as "Laffey" was. Fifty Japanese Vals and Oscars started separate dives on the destroyer at 8:27 a.m. It was impossible for a ship to stop 50 planes diving on her decks. All "Laffey" guns were firing, and sometimes, in the smoke and thunder, they almost hit U.S. Corsairs.

Within a short span of 80 minutes, the Japanese made 22 separate attacks on the 2,200-tonner. They came in low over the silent sea from every quarter. One, chased by a Corsair, flew right through "Laffey's" mast. American gunners splashed 16 planes into the sea.

Still they came. No power on earth could help the destroyer. She was hit by four high explosive bombs. Six kamikazes exploded aboard. At 9:47 a.m., the last Japanese plane disappeared.

"Laffey," hulled down, was dead. Fires raged everywhere topside. Sea water roared into sprung seams in the hull. Four small guns were still firing. Thirty-one men were dead; 72, wounded. "Laffey" wasn't worth her price in junk metal.

Becton and his men refused to give up. It required three hours for DMS "Macomb" to put low lines aboard. Later, the fleet tug "Pakana" came up over the horizon, lashed herself athwart "Laffey," and put her own pumps in the destroyer's hull. Together, they barely kept abreast of the flooding.

She was towed, more dead than alive, into Hagushi anchorage. She was floating, charred junk. In battle, Becton had yelled, "I'll never abandon ship as long as a gun will fire." Nor had the Japanese quit as long as they had a plane to throw at "Laffey."

The U.S. Navy said that "Laffey's" battle "stands out above the outstanding." I would go further. I would say that "Laffey" is the greatest story of all times of a naval vessel. And yet, no one has written the book; no one has asked about the movie.

It was the chaplain, hours later, who found the 18-year-old sailor who was afraid he didn't have the backbone for battle. He had been in his iron bucket seat as a Val crashed a gun mount above him, and showered the boy with flaming gasoline.

The body was burned black. Buddies peeled it off the gunner's chair. The body came off, but the spinal column stuck to the back of the seat. . .

Business World

By JOHN CUNNEIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — American industry is face to face with one of those painful confrontations with self that individuals also go through from time to time.

Its identity is involved. It wonders about its role in society. Its ethics are questioned. The polls show it far down the list of institutions deserving of our trust and confidence.

The doubts and questions assail businessmen from every direction, and from within as well. Sometimes such painful re-evaluations lead to understanding and growth; sometimes they bring stagnation.

People just don't understand the role of profit, laments Thomas Murphy, the chairman of General Motors Corp. "Profit has made General Motors, just as profit has made the United States of America," he declares.

Profits lead to jobs, GM and others strain to point out. Without profits business can't grow and produce jobs.

"If we were making even a reasonable amount of profit at General Motors today, there wouldn't be the slightest worry about SUB payments — for the very simple reason that all our plants and our GM employees would be working," Murphy told the Flint Chamber of Commerce this month.

But the AFL-CIO and a lot of unemployed workers tend to view the problem from a different direction. To them, jobs come first — and then profits. Get America working and the economy will tend to correct itself, they say.

While the profits-job question is muddled, other considerations refuse to await their turn.

An ancient question is being resurrected: What kind of economic society is best for the United States, centrally planned or free enterprise?

Any businessman worthy of membership in the Chamber of Commerce openly declares himself for free enterprise, but then he doesn't always follow through.

Many businessmen today are calling for some sort of economic central planning, if only to avoid the shortages and price eruptions that have brought misery to their lives and those of their customers.

And, while declaring themselves foursquare for independence from government, many business executives regularly shuttle to Washington in search of special treatment and aid, sometimes in the form of loan guarantees.

Refugees To Arrive

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—Hamilton industrialist Andrew Kornylak said he expects two Vietnamese refugee families to arrive here by the end of the week and the fathers of each family will begin work in Kornylak's plant shortly after.

Kornylak earlier suggested a nationwide program to absorb the refugees into United States society by asking manufacturing firms to hire the heads of households.

The plan, however, met with criticism by workers in Kornylak's own plant. Some workers picketed demanding Kornylak hire unemployed Americans first.

Kornylak said he talked with the two Vietnamese families Monday at Eglin Air Force Base in Florida.

One is the family of Dao Duy, a Vietnamese geologist and the other is Dao Duy Duc. Both families are awaiting security clearances, Kornylak said.

St. Paul Lutheran Church Setting For Wedding Vows

MR. AND MRS. JOHN MICHAEL BELL

Miss Shirley Mae Brown and Mr. John Michael Bell were married 2:30 p.m., May 10th, in St. Paul Lutheran Church of Ashville with the Rev. H. L. Strauch officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Neal Brown, Route 1, Ashville, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Bell, Route 5, Circleville.

A program of pre-nuptial selections was recorded and presented by Mr. Paul Brown. Organist was Mrs. Marjorie Pickering and vocalist, Mrs. Mary Ann Wiebel.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and mother. For her wedding she selected a floor length gown of off-white embroidered eyelet. The bodice featured chiffon bell shaped sleeves edged with ruffles and pink lace. A wide flounce and pink lace edged the bottom of the full length gathered skirt. She carried a bouquet of snowflake mums and daisies in pink, blue and yellow with pink roses and baby's breath. Pink lace ribbons flowed from the colonial style bouquet and a crown of matching flowers was worn in her hair.

Mrs. Barbara Rauffeld served her sister as matron of honor. She was dressed in a formal length gown of pink flowered chiffon over pink crepe with sheer capelet sleeves and a flounce around the skirt. She wore a crown of babies breath in her hair and carried a single pink rosebud.

Bridesmaids, Miss Joann Brown and Miss Betty Brown, also sisters of the bride, were gowned identically to the honor attendant in blue and pink chiffon respectively and carried pink rosebuds.

Mr. Bob Cook performed the duties of best man. Groomsmen were Mr. John Pribble and Mr. Bill Fridley. Ushers were Mr. Tom Scothorn and Mr. Roger Cremeans.

Women Make Inroads In Politics

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—When Esther Mayl first came into politics as a volunteer on the precinct level, women were tolerated — but barely.

Now sitting in the Democratic headquarters on Dayton's Wilkinson Street, she can say, "Women get much more consideration than in the past. They are recognized more on the national and state levels and more locally."

Smiling and pleasant, Esther Mayl's political recognition has extended to national and state roles, but it was just recently that her party's state women's organization took formal notice.

At its 44th annual spring convention in Toledo, the Federated Democratic Women of Ohio selected Mrs. Mayl as Democratic Woman of the Year 1974.

"When Democrats visit in Montgomery County, one of the most important people for them to see is Esther Mayl," said State Sen. Neal Zimmers Jr., D-5 Dayton.

Zimmers' statement underlines just how active Mrs. Mayl is.

"When Gov. Gilligan was in office I was in charge of patronage," said Mrs. Mayl. "I still handle the local patronage."

She has an office in Democratic headquarters, but she also is a member of the Montgomery County board of elections.

Her marriage to Richard Mayl opened the political door for Esther Mayl. Her husband was president of the Young Democrats in 1938 when Esther became a precinct committeewoman.

She climbed one rung at a time. Now she is the highest ranking Democratic woman in Ohio and is the national committeewoman from the state.

Mrs. Mayl looks at her own success as a mirror of the rise of women in politics.

"Men are educated that women can do the job," she said. She motioned to a picture behind her desk. "Look at our Sunday callers at the Archie Sweets were Mrs. Ernest Frazier and daughter Patty, and Frank Schaefer, a cousin of the Sweets, all of Springfield.

Paul Gillespie has been unable to work due to illness, but is now improving.

Mrs. Charles Nance has been feeling very poorly at her home and needs cheering up. Please take time to send her a card of cheer, a letter or perhaps pay her a visit. It's always nice to know your friends still care.

great gal Gertude Donahey. She's doing a tremendous job."

Mrs. Donahey is state treasurer.

Mrs. Mayl believes the time has come for more women candidates, and said, "If I was younger I would consider it."

But, she doesn't believe there should be women candidates just for the sake of women candidates.

"I think you will see a woman candidate next election," she said. "But, I don't believe in the name game. The woman must be qualified. I still believe a person should be elected on ability."

More young women are becoming interested in political service, she said, "but they must find the plateau upon which to serve."

Mrs. Mayl doesn't hazard a prediction on the Democratic presidential nomination in 1976.

"We've got so many candidates now," she smiled. "Some of them haven't even been in Ohio. Sooner or later we'll have to start sifting."

Lebanon Walkaways Both Recaptured

LEBANON, Ohio (AP)—The Lebanon Correctional Institute said two inmates who walked away from an outside garage detail were recaptured without incident Tuesday. Supt. William Dallman said Frank Thomas, 20, and Tommy Archer, 19 were flushed from a wooded area south of Monroe by police from several area departments. Both men are from Muskingum County and are serving one-to-five year terms.

Hearing Scheduled For Police Officer

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)— Acting Safety Director Richard Castellini set a hearing for 9 a.m., May 29 for Police Lt. Arthur Harmon.

Harmon was accused of shooting at his family during an argument April 25. The Hamilton County grand jury ignored the case. Castellini said Harmon is still liable for departmental charges, however.

What A Waste

NEW YORK (AP) — Americans are generating waste paper at the rate of 37 million tons a year — and they consider disposal of this vast amount of waste paper a significant environmental problem, according to the Recycled Paperboard Division of the American Paper Institute.

A new national study released by the division reveals that consumers consider recycling waste paper a more logical means of "disposing" of it than burning it for fuel or using it as land fill.

SUMMER MEALS WITH TURKEY

Turkey is an economical meat that shouldn't be limited to Thanksgiving and Christmas menus. For summer meals, turkey can be cooked on the outdoor grill.

A seven to ten pound turkey can be cooked whole on the rotisserie. To prepare a frozen turkey for the rotisserie, thaw it in the refrigerator, allowing 24 hours for each five pounds of meat. Wash and dry the bird and sprinkle the cavity with salt and thyme and add a stalk of celery and a few slices of onion. Turkey that is cooked on a spit should not be stuffed. Fasten the neck skin to the turkey.

Tie the wings and legs tightly to the body and rub the skin with cooking oil. Follow the manufacturer's directions for using the rotisserie. Baste the turkey frequently with melted butter. It's a good idea to use a meat thermometer to check the doneness of the turkey. The thermometer will register 175 degrees farenheit when the turkey is done. Allow about 15 minutes cooking time for each pound of meat. This turkey should provide five to seven servings.

Turkey can be cut up like chicken and cooked on the grill. This recipe for barbecue sauce can be used for beef and pork as well as turkey and chicken.

½ Cup Finely Chopped Onion

2 Tablespoons Prepared Mustard

1 Teaspoon Sugar

½ Teaspoon Ground Cloves

1 Cup Catsup

CONGRESSMAN HARSHA HONORED—Congressman William H. Harsha (right), retiring as honorary chairman of Citizens for Highway Safety, receives an antique gold watch from John Manley, chairman of the organization's board of directors and Executive Vice President of Potters Industries. Overflow Crowd Sees JFK Film

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — An overflow crowd of more than 1,200 jammed an auditorium at the University of Cincinnati Tuesday night to see a controversial film about the assassination of John Kennedy.

Ralph Schoenman, lecturer and investigator of assassinations, said the deaths of John and Robert Kennedy, Martin Luther King Jr. and Malcolm X were "a series of political executions" carried out and covered up by a powerful corporate ruling class aided by the CIA and FBI.

"When we're dealing with the people who pull the trigger," said Schoenman, an associate of Dick Gregory, "we're talking about functionaries."

Schoenman showed the Zapruder film of the John Kennedy assassination and said it clearly showed that Kennedy was killed by a bullet fired from in front of him rather than from the rear where Lee Harvey Oswald was positioned.

"The Warren Commission report is a tissue of lies wherever you touch it," Schoenman said. He said the commission ignored contacts Oswald had with the CIA and FBI and painted a false picture of him as "a Marxist and a loner," when Oswald actually had high security clearance.

Schoenman said that ballistics tests and other "hard evidence" contradicts "official fiction" in the murders of the Kennedys and King.

"The ruling class is besieged. It cannot meet the needs of the people," Schoenman said. "That is why it resorts to official murder."

Watergate has made people more receptive to what he has to say, he told newsmen after the lecture.

Schoenman has appeared several times before members of the Rockefeller Commission investigating the CIA.

Ohio Farmers Gain In Corn Planting

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)— Ohio farmers, three-fourths through their corn planting, are keeping an eye on gyrating grain prices and inflated fertilizer costs to see if they can make them balance.

Given a dry spring, Buckeye farmers are a week ahead of last year with their corn planting and well ahead of normal with soybean planting, but they have problems — mostly money problems.

But, that's just part of the picture. Fertilizer shortages, big news as late as last winter, have not disappeared, but it appears to be mainly a matter of distribution, and farmer willingness to pay a price.

Anhydrous ammonia, a principal source of nitrogen for corn, is about 25 per cent more costly this spring than last at $240 to $320 a ton, compared to the $195-200 of last spring. But, it isn't easily available in all sections yet.

"The spottiness has been caused by some of the manufacturers who distributed their product through their own outlets," said George Greenleaf, executive vice president of the Ohio Grain, Feed and Fertilizer Association.

Another major nitrogen source, urea, is in an even odder position. While it is 15 to 20 per cent higher in price than a year ago, it is not in short supply and it is up to $120 a ton lower than it was in December and January. This caught some dealers.

"I'm losing about $100 a ton on every ton I sell," said one dealer. "I paid $340 a ton for urea the first of the year, and I can't sell it now unless I sell it at $240 a ton."

Greenleaf said he had heard of dealers paying a premium up to $6,000 in order to get out of winter contracts.

"The farmers themselves are partially responsible," said Greenleaf. "They said, 'Hey, look, I'm going to be careful,' when they saw the prices go up and up." The Ohio Crop Reporting Service estimated Tuesday that Ohio farmers had 75 per cent of their corn and 35 per cent of their soybeans planted. The corn estimate is a week ahead of normal and even with last year. The soybean estimate is 5 per cent ahead of last year and 15 per cent ahead of normal.

But, the blessing of a dry plowing and planting season has a price tag. That means germination might be delayed.

3 Ohioans Are Killed In Crash

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. (AP) — Three Ohio residents died in a fire early Tuesday and five others were injured when a truck pulling a trailer was involved in an accident on Interstate 15, the highway patrol said.

The driver apparently lost control of the truck, which went into the center divider, the patrol said. The truck and camper overturned and burned.

The dead were identified as the driver, James Glazer, 57, of Port Washington, Ohio; his daughter-in-law, Mary Jane Glazer, 31, of New Philadelphia, Ohio, and his niece, Candy Sue Lawrence, 12, who lived with the family.

James Glazer's wife, Lois, 49, suffered critical head injuries.

Suffering minor injuries were Larry Glazer, 31, husband of the dead woman; his brother, Don Glazer, 22, of Port Washington; Kevin, 8, son, and Kiberly, 5, daughter of Larry Glazer.

The injured were taken to Victor Valley Hospital in Victorville.

Tax Case Dismissed

Fertilizer Sales To Level Out

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fertilizer sales have returned to a normal pattern this year, the chairman of the Fertilizer Institute says.

"Last year, there was a lot of panic-buying early in the year" that some fertilizer producers tried to counter with soil-testing programs, to gear farmers to what they needed only in a shortage period, said Joseph P. Sullivan.

Sullivan, chairman of that trade association for the chemical fertilizer industry, is president of Estech Inc., the chemicals branch of Esmark Inc. Estech's holdings include a fully vertically integrated fertilizer operation that during its 1974 fiscal year was largely responsible for before-tax earnings for the company of $57.3 million, eight times the 1973 earnings.

During last season's worldwide fertilizer shortage, producers committed themselves to enough new processing plants to meet the demand they foresaw, industry officials said then.

Sullivan said in a telephone interview from his Chicago office that the cycle of the last 10 years of ragged gaps between production and demand has moderated. Although new capacity is not what the industry said it would be by 1975, the plants coming on line "are good for 10 or 15 years," Sullivan said.

In his annual report to stockholders, he said, "Estech will continue to expand the fertilizer business in response to the unprecedented demands of world agriculture."

Indeed, the fertilizer profits were a major factor — roughly 40 per cent — in the $20-million increase in net earnings last year for the parent holding company, Esmark, its officials say.

This year, equilibrium is more in evidence, he said. "We've moved out of the hysterical demand period," although some spot shortages will develop with certain fertilizers.

"We'll see a balanced supply and demand on phosphates this year," he said, predicting another "buoyant" stretch for the business, in the manner of 1974.

It takes $4 billion to $5 billion from profits, he said, to finance new production, and limited capital is among the factors forcing changes in what had been just a few years ago a laggard industry.

"We are moving into a period in which we've got to take note of the structural changes in the business" forced by shortages of natural gas, the "incredible" cost of minerals and the capital problems. Coal-gasification development and better use of phosphates are among the alternatives, he said.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Comic Card Is Bad Joke

DEAR ABBY: I am a 23-year-old college-educated, unmarried woman.

I have definitely made up my mind that I do not want to bear any children. If I marry and want a child, I will adopt a homeless child since I think there are already too many children in the world.

Also, I would like to be able to have sex without worrying about getting pregnant, and no matter what anybody says, there is absolutely NO method of contraception that is 100 per cent foolproof.

I have asked every doctor I know to perform an operation on me to prevent pregnancy, but so far, I have found no one who will. They all say: "Oh, you'll change your mind one day and then be sorry." Or: "Have a few kids first-then I'll do it for you." They act like they'd be committing some kind of crime.

Abby, why shouldn't I be able to have that kind of operation if that is what I want? And where can I find a doctor who will do it?

IDAHO READER

DEAR READER: I personally feel that if you do not want children, it's your right. Keep shopping around for a doctor. If you can't find one, inquire at your nearest Planned Parenthood office for information. Their motto is: "Every child should be a wanted child." And I couldn't agree more.

DEAR ABBY: It's been 50 years since I've even thought of my childhood sweetheart. Then I read in the obituary column that her father had died, and she was still a "Miss." I have been a widower for 18 months, so I sent this childhood sweetheart a mass card. She promptly wrote to thank me for it. Then I sent a comic card that read, "Are you free Saturday night? I have $2.95 to spend." (I wrote on the bottom, "On the serious side, I'd like to take you out for dinner if you aren't too upset about the loss of your father.")

No reply. Should I write to her again? Perhaps telephone her?

Do you think that receiving no answer was an answer in the negative? Thanks for your comments.

CONNECTICUT YANKEE

DEAR YANK: Your comic card may not have been so comical since the lady was still in mourning. Wait a while, then telephone her. If you get a chilly reception, you'll know you blew it.

DEAR ABBY: With reference to walk-in customers versus telephone customers, this is how I handle it:

When I phone a store, I always open my inquiry with: "If you are not with a customer now, will you please help me?"

The clerk says, "Yes, I can help you" or "I'm busy now, may I take your number and call you back, or will you hold?"

Then, when I am in a store and in a hurry, if the phone rings while I'm being waited on and the salesperson makes a move to answer it, I say, "Please ask the person on the phone to wait. I was here first, and I am in a hurry."

They always look a little shocked, but I don't care because I know I'm right. And if they will just stop and think, they'll agree.

I have also been a salesperson, so I've been on both sides of the counter.

"SELDOM STANDIN' AND WAITIN'"

DEAR SELDOM: Your system makes sense for telephone shoppers, walk-in customers and clerks. Thanks for the sensible suggestion.

'Chinese Look' Latest Fashion

NEW YORK (AP) — Go East young woman!

That's what American fashion designers are trying to tell their customers, and by East they don't mean New York City. They're pushing China all the way. The Seventh Avenue stylists who presented their fall collections here in recent weeks are hoping to see women in quilted coats and coolie jackets, in Mandarin collars and sidebuttoned blouses.

It all seems vaguely familiar — remember the Mao suits for men and the vogue for anything Chinese that followed the resumption of relations between Washington and Peking?

But the colors are bright, the patterns are pretty and the quilting will at least help people keep warm if there's another energy crisis.

Whether you choose one of the pseudo-Chinese styles or not, be prepared to pull in your stomach and start counting calories again.

The tents of spring have vanished and clothes are clinging to the body again. They're not tight — just form fitting. They use less cloth and that saves money.

There was more emphasis than ever before on moderate-priced clothes. (Moderate in this case means $100 or so for a dress. If that seems like a lot, remember that several of the designers have ready-to-wear lines that start at $300 and keep climbing. Made-to-order items, if you can find them, often have four-figure price tags.)

Ford Sets Auto Price Increases

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co. probably will raise new car prices about $300 this fall, says board chairman Henry Ford II.

Ford's prediction, made Monday at an impromptu news conference, was at the upper limit of the increase of 3 to 6 per cent mentioned by company President Lee A. Iacocca at the firm's stockholder's meeting earlier this month.

New car prices rose an average $450 last September and another $500 or so in the preceding nine months, contributing to the sharp sales slump started by the Mideast oil embargo and deepened last fall by economic recession.

Ford also said the firm is cutting production for June to 345,000 vehicles from the previously announced total of 370,000. A company spokesman said the move would not add to the number of workers on indefinite layoffs, but would mean more downtime for some assembly plants.

Ford said he is trimming his personal estimate for 1975 total auto sales to about 8 million, including 16 or 17 per cent imports. In the first four months of this year imports have captured a record 21.2 per cent of the market.

"I've written off 1975," Ford said. "We've had some real tough problems this year. We hope we'll be in real good shape (for) calendar '76."

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Warm weather with some chance of rain is expected to continue over the state for the next few days.

Afternoon temperatures today were forecast to climb well into the 80s again, with some afternoon and evening thunderstorms likely, especially across the northern half of the state.

Nighttime temperatures were expected to drop into the 60s, with another day of readings in the 80s in store for Thursday.

A low pressure system over the Northern Plains and central Rockies is moving very slowly and should produce no significant change in temperatures until the end of the week.

Thunderstorms moved east across Lake Erie Tuesday night, touching the northeast corner of Ohio in Ashtabula County. Patchy clouds dotted the sky over the rest of the state.

It was quite warm and humid overnight, with temperatures dipping into the 60s early this morning in most sections. At a few spots, the mercury was still around the 70-degree mark just before sunrise.

Donate Land For Bikes, Hike Trail

Calvin Klein turned out to be a winner in every way.

The clothes were classics, soft and easy to wear with many styles that can serve double duty. Klein offered coats priced around $180 and blouses designed to sell for $40.

There were corduroy jackets with pleated plaid skirts for day; panne velvet pants and chiffon ruffled blouses for evening. Klein also showed blouse sets. Take one blouse, complete with bow, and wear as normal. Take the other blouse, usually more tailored, and use it as a jacket.

Several designers in addition to Klein opted for separates patched together instead of a single dress. Don Sayres for Gamut offered a particularly attractive vest, blazer and skirt. The costume was worn with a blouse and matching ascot. (The ascot is another favorite to watch for fall; if the designers have their way, women will be all set for fox hunting.)

BALTIMORE (AP)—A sixty mile stretch of land through the Allegheny Mountains owned by the Chessie System will be donated to the Western Pennsylvania Conservancy to be used as a bicycling and hiking trail.

Government and railroad officials and conservationists were scheduled to inspect the Chessie's right-of-way today on a special train.

The group will travel over the Western Maryland Railway between Conneville, Pa., and Frostburg, Md., on a route which parallels the Youghiogheny, Casselman and Potomac Rivers.

The donation is made possible because the Western Maryland trains will now operate over the parallel line of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad.

The government has been encouraging financially troubled railroads to abandon certain tracks on their networks.

The Public Investigator

The Investigator questioned utility companies in the area concerning the raise in prices to consumers of their product and the reasons for the raise. Here are the answers from Columbia Gas Of Ohio.

(Q.) Approximately how many customers do you service in Circleville and Pickaway County?

(A.) Columbia Gas of Ohio, Inc., serves approximately 6,500 customers in Pickaway County, including some 4,900 that are served from the Circleville Local Office.

(Q.) What are your present rates to individuals and how much have the rates increased in the past year? Six months? Three months?

(A.) Since Ohio law gives each community the right to negotiate its natural gas rate individually with Columbia Gas of Ohio, based on the cost of serving that community, the gas rate is different in each community.

Columbia Gas of Ohio serves four incorporated communities in Pickaway County. Based on an average residential gas usage of 15,000 cubic feet per month, over a 12 month period, an average monthly bill at the times specified for each community follows:

Ashville — June 1974, $22.59; November 1974, $24.36; February 1975, $25.62; May 1975, $27.91.

Circleville — June 1974, $20.16; November 1974, $21.93; February 1975, $25.07; May 1975, $27.36.

Commercial Point — June 1974, $26.20; November 1974, $27.97; February 1975, $29.23; May 1975, $31.52.

South Bloomfield — June 1974, $25.20; November 1974, $26.97; February 1975, $28.23; May 1975, $30.52.

A new rate ordinance in Circleville became effective with bills mailed on and after Jan. 17, 1975, which increased the bill of an average customer by $1.88 monthly. All other adjustments are due to purchase gas cost adjustment provisions of the communities' contracts with the gas company.

(Q.) Do you have any "extra" charges such as installation costs or deposits?

(A.) Under normal circumstances, Columbia Gas of Ohio does not require deposits or make any charge for establishing service to residential customers.

(Q.) Why is there a raise in the cost to consumers? Do you expect to reach any ceiling in the selling price?

(A.) Rates of most customers served by Columbia Gas of Ohio have increased sharply in recent months and the outlook for the months and years ahead is for more of the same.

However, rates for other forms of energy also are on the increase, and, not surprisingly, the reasons for these increases are quite similar to the ones causing Columbia's rates to climb.

Inflation, combined with the rising cost of labor, material and supplies have caused continued upward pressure on operating expenses despite efforts by Columbia System to control and reduce such costs. The System has over 600 fewer employees today than at the end of 1972, construction programs have been reduced to only essential maintenance and improvement projects, and other operating expenses have been reduced accordingly.

The overall result has been a slowing of the rate of increase.

But two-digit inflation and uncommonly high interest rates have continued. That forces the gas companies to ask regulatory agencies for higher rates of return.

They have to earn rates of return which enable them to compete with other kinds of investments and to attract the large amount of outside capital, more than $600 million between 1970 and 1975 and $5 million within the next decade, needed to develop new sources of supply.

These same factors are also affecting the pipeline companies that sell gas to Columbia. Those items are reflected in rate increases approved by the Federal Power Commission. They are passed along to the Columbia Gas Transmission Corp., together with higher prices they must pay for gas, and then to the distribution companies and eventually to the consumer.

Another factor affecting Columbia's rates is the price the Columbia Distribution Companies are now paying and will continue to pay in the years ahead for non-historic sources of supply.

To help offset the deterioration of available supplies of gas from the Southwest, Columbia has constructed and put into operation a $48 million synthetic gas plant in Northwestern Ohio and has plans to import gas in liquid form by tanker from overseas and to bring gas via a 48-inch diameter pipeline more than 3,500 miles long from Alaska.

Synthetic gas now costs more than $3 a thousand cubic feet to produce.

This has resulted in sharp increases in the cost to the customer. But without it, the current supply shortfall would be considerably worse.

Costs of liquefied natural gas and gas from Alaska will also be higher than conventional sources. They too will undoubtedly result in increases to the consumer when they come on line in 1977 and 1980 respectively ... if current development schedules are not delayed.

However, these costs will be rolled in with lower cost gas from historic sources and thus the impact on customers will not be as great.

It should be made clear that all increases in the price Columbia Distribution Companies must pay for gas they purchase from suppliers are reflected in the consumer's rate on a dollar-for-dollar basis.

They do not increase a company's profit no matter whether it pays 25 cents a thousand cubic feet; 50 cents a thousand cubic feet or $3 a thousand cubic feet for the gas it purchases.

It's rate of return as established by regulatory agencies is based upon its investment in, or value of, the facilities it has dedicated to public service.

The days of abundant supplies of low-cost energy are over. Today and in the years ahead, all energy companies are faced with the same situation: It is costing more to produce a single unit of energy and bring it to market.

Natural gas, however, still continues to be the most economical form of energy. It still costs significantly less than fuel oil and electricity.

(Q.) What are your different payment plans and which one is the most popular with consumers in the area?

(A.) While all Columbia Gas of Ohio customers are billed monthly, many customers avail themselves of the company's "Budget Payment Plan," which permits the cost of service to be spread evenly over a 12-month period.

In the event that meeting his monthly payments becomes a hardship for a customer, a trained company representative also will sit down with him and work out an installment payment schedule to help him meet his obligation.

(Q.) Are you aware of any federal or state legislation to lower the rates of persons on fixed incomes? Does your company see any need for such legislation?

(A.) Several bills have been introduced in the Ohio Legislature dealing with rate relief for persons with limited incomes. Columbia appreciates the difficulty higher energy bills work on lower income families.

With its one million customers in Ohio, Columbia cannot be placed in the position of determining who qualifies for assistance programs in paying their gas bills. This is a government function. The use of stamps or other types of welfare assistance would appear to be the logical solution of low-income families are to receive public aid in meeting increasing energy costs in the future.

We have been working with these low income families, meanwhile, in an effort to show them how they can reduce their fuel bills. Columbia also offers an installment payment program to ease the seasonal burden on them.

(Q.) Are efforts by the consumer helping to reduce the load of energy consumed? What additional measures could the consumer implement to conserve more?

(A.) Conservation of current gas supplies continues to be our best short-term solution to the current energy shortage and it is essential that all of our customers continue to reduce their gas consumption to continue to make more gas available for industry, thus helping to prevent unemployment.

Columbia Gas of Ohio customers reduced consumption 8.2 per cent in the 1973-74 winter and 9.2 per cent this winter by turning thermostats back and practicing other recommended conservation techniques.

In light of the continuing supply situation, even greater efforts must be made. Every cubic foot of gas our customers can conserve will help ease the burden of our curtailed industrial customers and help protect the jobs of those who work in the affected industries.

Columbia Gas of Ohio has a number of brochures and pamphlets available with home conservation tips and invites residents to phone their local gas company office with inquiries about conservation procedures. These services are free and assistance is given to any requesting homeowner, regardless of the type of energy used for residential heating.

(Q.) By what process is your energy manufactured? Where is it produced and by what means is it brought to the consumer?

(A.) Columbia Gas Transmission Corp. is the sole supplier of natural gas from historic sources (the Southwest) to Columbia Gas of Ohio and six other Columbia Gas distribution companies. All are subsidiaries of the Columbia Gas System, Inc. Columbia Gas Transmission also supplies gas to 79 other companies, non-affiliated companies, in no way connected with Columbia.

Columbia Gas Transmission is totally regulated by the Federal Power Commission and must conform to the FPC uniform system of accounting, make required reports, receive periodic Commission audits and prepare extensive costs exhibits to support any filings to increase its rates.

The Commission Staff challenges any expenditure that it feels may not be justified and Columbia Gas Transmission must prove that the expenditure is justified or it is not allowed in rates.

The same FPC authorized rate tariffs that apply to the seven affiliated distribution companies also apply to the 79 non-affiliated companies, so there is no possibility that Columbia affiliates can be charged different rates than non-affiliated companies.

Columbia distribution companies intervene before the Federal Power Commission when Columbia Gas Transmission Corp., its wholesale supplier, files for rate increase.

In rate cases, the distribution companies as well as non-affiliated companies, plus representatives of states that are served, in addition to the Federal Power Commission staff, all participate.

The record before the Federal Power Commission shows clearly that Columbia distribution companies actively fight rate cases, contesting various costs and cost allocations to determine whether or not a rate is justified.

The distribution companies participate fully in these cases, offering evidence if they go to hearing, and ordinarily succeed in reducing rates the transmission company applies for.

Columbia produces only five per cent of its total gas supply. This cost is included in Columbia Gas Transmission's operating expenses in FPC rate cases, along with the many other costs incurred in transporting gas for hundreds of miles, putting it into underground storage and delivering it to distribution companies.

Forty-five per cent of Columbia Gas Transmission's gas supply is purchased from 3,600 independent producers in the Southwest and the Appalachian areas.

The Southwest purchases are transported by Columbia Gulf Transmission Corp., another Columbia System subsidiary, under FPC approved tariffs to the connection with Columbia Gas Transmission, which is located in West Virginia.

The remaining 50 per cent of Columbia Gas Transmission's gas supply is purchased from five major, non-affiliated, FPC regulated pipeline suppliers: Tennessee Gas Pipe Line Co., Texas Eastern Transmission Corp., Panhandle Eastern Pipeline Co., Texas Gas Transmission Corp. and Transcontinental Gas Pipe Line Corp.

In April, 1974, the distribution companies began receiving synthetic gas produced from imported and U.S. feedstocks from Columbia LNG Corp., another Columbia System subsidiary. The reforming plant cost $48 million and Columbia LNG sells the synthetic gas at cost, plus a return on its investment based on the most recent FPC authorized rate of return for Columbia Gas Transmission.

(Q.) Is your company currently undertaking projects to locate more energy reserves? If so, where and to what extent?

(A.) Columbia has many projects planned to increase its supply. However, those projects require regulatory approvals and necessary financing, and in some cases action by the United States and other governments.

As a result Columbia has no assurance as to when the projects can be completed or as to when its gas supply shortage will be eased and sales restrictions removed or modified.

To be more specific we offer this review of our projects.

Columbia's construction of a liquefied natural gas facility at Cove Point, Md., began in August, 1973. It is anticipated that initial deliveries of Algerian LNG to Cove Point will commence in 1977.

A proposed large diameter gas pipeline to move gas reserves from Prudhoe Bay, Alaska, and possibly from northern Canada, to the United States, is now subject to government authorization by the U.S. and Canada.

If all government authorizations are received and necessary financing can be arranged in 1975, construction is scheduled to begin in 1976 with estimated completion in 1979.

Columbia began geophysical exploration of the Atlantic offshore in 1968 and plans to participate in any federal lease sales which pertain to this area. It does not appear that exploration and development of this area will take place prior to 1976. Under these circumstances Columbia cannot predict when gas might be available from Atlantic offshore.

Coal gasification as a source of supply cannot be counted on until sometime after 1980.

Mrs. Dean Congrove (Diane DeLong) was honored at a bridal shower last Friday night by Miss Mary Ann Cryder at her home in Hallsville. A miniature wishing well, constructed by Guy W. Matthew, was used on the bridal table.

Gifts were received from Mrs. Drexel Jones, Mrs. Isobel Congrove, Mrs. Jerry Kerns, Mrs. Herald Karsner, Mrs. Francis Bowsher, Mrs. Gary Pontious, Mrs. Earl Cryder, Miss Margaret Cryder, Mrs. Clarence Russell, Mrs. Guy W. Matthew, Miss Florence Marchington, Mrs. Mildred Armstrong and Mrs. Dallas DeLong. Little Miss Dixie Bowsher assisted the hostess with games and refreshments.

Teddy Van Horn was elected commander of Kingston American Legion, unit 291 at its regular meeting in the Legion Home, Thursday. Other members of the 1975-76 slate of officers are Adjutant, Kenneth Timmons; finance officer, Bernard Davis; first vice president, Carl Hohenstein Jr.; second vice president, William Van Horn; chaplain, Edgar Stoneburner; service officer, Calvin Morrison; Gifts For Ynks Who Gave, Hugh Clark Jr.

On Monday the Legion will send its customary unit to the following cemeteries to decorate graves of our service men. Pete Shffer will serve as bugler and in order of their visit beginning at 9 a.m. the cemeteries are White Churches on Route 180, Bethel, Crouse Chapel, Kingston, Whisler, Meade, Imbler, Tarlton, Adelphi.

The date of the Legion's Memorial weekend was mistakenly given last week as May 31 and June 1 and 2. That date is wrong, it is on May 24, 25 and 26, the new memorial date. But they still intend to have a hog roast, fish fry and what ever goes with it. Starting on Friday night and continuing on thru the weekend, the Kingston Geranium Festival Committee, will sell geraniums at the Legion Home.

natural gas must be decontrolled.

We can see no improvement in gas supply in the nation during the next several years.

What we do see is: The gas supply situation will continue to worsen until the nation's vast potential gas reserves, estimated up to 1,500 trillion cubic feet, are developed.

Even if the wellhead price of gas is decontrolled in the next six to 12 months, the minimum lead time for increasing supply is four to five years. It takes that long to develop new production fields.

(Q.) Who may consumers call with questions concerning billing procedures?

(A.) Customers with questions about billing procedures or additional information about Columbia Gas of Ohio operations in their area should call the local gas company office that handles their account.

Taft Eyes Re-Election

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)— Sen. Robert Taft Jr., R-Ohio, is expected to file documents for re-election with the Federal Elections Commission in Washington today.

William J. Graham Jr., a Cincinnati attorney and political associate of Taft, said the details of the Taft re-election committee would be filed as the first legal step necessary for Taft to become a candidate.

Taft has not officially announced he would seek re-election.

"Anybody who says he is not running just does not know what's happening," Graham said.

In a letter to Graham and John J. Kelley Jr., the former Cleveland lawyer who will head the Taft for Senate Committee, the senator said while he has not made a decision whether to seek re-election, "I am agreeable to your efforts in organizing a campaign in my behalf."

Girl's Lib.

Lo, these many days we have preached the values of newspaper route management. For boys. How it helps a boy learn the principles of business. Builds him a nice bank account. Teaches him to deal with people. Even helps him do better at school. Now, not for boys alone. A girl, too, can have a route of her own ... with our newspaper. Some already do. And enjoy the same advantages of fun and profit a boy can get from route management. Equal rights it is. So phone us today, young lady, and talk. There may be a route open to you right in your neighborhood. Now.

Ohio Village Schedules Memorial Day Events

Ohio Village will celebrate the Memorial Day weekend with a series of special activities Sunday, and an extra day Monday.

The Village, located at I-71 and 17th Ave. in Columbus, is a reconstruction of a typical Ohio county seat between 1800 and 1860.

On Sunday, each of the shops and stores will present craft demonstrations not normally given in the Village. For example, visitors will see wool dying with natural tints in the weaver's shop, rifle barrel making in the outdoor forge at the gunsmith's shop and ink making in the print shop. Visitors will be invited to participate in a town quilting bee at the open market throughout the day. The finished quilt, designed to show scenes of daily life in the village, will be permanently displayed in the physician's home and office.

Bargain hunters will find a sidewalk sale of slightly damaged and irregular merchandise on the town square at 2 p.m. Many of the items that will be offered for sale have been manufactured by village craftspeople.

The town hall will be the location of two music concerts at 2:30 and 4 p.m. Prescilla and Hope Hewetson and Jim Mason will play and sing early Ohio folk music from the period of the village.

Ohio Village is normally closed each Monday and Tuesday, but will remain open May 26 for Memorial Day visitors. The village will be open from 10 to 6 both days. Parking is free and food service from an authentic menu of the mid-nineteenth century is available in the Village's American House Hotel.

Application forms for the West Virginia Viet Nam Bonus are now available it was announced by Jim Shea, Pickaway County Veterans Service Officer. The applications can be secured from the Bonus Division, State Department of Veterans Affairs, 604 Atlas Building, Charleston, W. Va. 25301.

Shea also has information concerning the Viet Nam Bonus for the states of Connecticut, Delaware, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Louisiana, Massachusetts, Minnesota, Montana, North Dakota, Ohio, Pennsylvania, South Dakota, Vermont, Washington, West Virginia, Michigan and the island of Guam.

The veterans service office is located in Room 21, basement of the Pickaway County Courthouse.

VFY Board Holds May Meeting

Nine members of the Board of Directors of the Pickaway County Volunteers for youth met Tuesday at the YMCA.

Dieter Droste, president, suggested that the Training Committee take initial steps in setting up a pre-service training program for volunteers locally since Pickaway County Volunteers can not expect to participate in the Columbus Juvenile Probation Council Training Sessions indefinitely.

Tom Fitzgerald will contact Sue Rostura of the Ohio Youth Commission to outline a program.

Droste also reported that VFY's application for membership to the Pickaway County Community Fund in April has warranted no response. The funding committee agreed to continue seeking alternate funds for the remainder of this year, as monies will be needed to provide materials for training. If membership is gained to the Community Fund, VFY may not seek additional funding from any other local groups or persons.

Each board member was asked to actively seek a replacement for the vacancy on the board and present the recommendations at the next meeting June 17.

Meetings have been changed from noon to 4:30 p.m. to facilitate working members who can no longer participate in the noon meetings.

It was reported that nine volunteers and Mrs. Downing attended a rap session Monday at the Good Shepherd United Methodist Church.

Public Meet Bill Given Approval

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Sen. Robert D. Freeman's bill to require state and local government agencies to conduct meetings in public has received unanimous approval of the Senate Judiciary Committee.

Freeman, D-29 Canton, is seeking enactment of legislation similar to Florida's "sunshine law" which opened that state's meetings to newsmen and the public several years ago. Tuesday's 7-0 committee vote came after seven hearings.

The bill makes some key exceptions to what the Canton lawmaker asked originally. It permits political caucuses to continue to be held behind closed doors and certain other executive meetings would be permitted for specific purposes.

Included under the exceptions are meetings of the state parole board, those at which an agency is to receive legal advice from its designated attorney, those called to discuss security arrangements and sessions that involve plans to acquire land to public purposes.

Freeman said it was necessary to make concessions to get the bill he introduced Jan. 28 on its way through the legislative process.

Overall, he said, "I think the committee did a fine job."

Fostoria Man Killed

FOSTORIA, Ohio (AP) — Kim Deckard, 22, of Fostoria, was killed Tuesday when his cycle smashed broadside into a car in Fostoria, authorities said.

Probably the oldest educational institution in the world is the University of Karuein, founded in 859 A.D. in Fez, Morocco.

Humans Need 'Buffer Zone'

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—A University Hospitals researcher says his studies indicate that when someone says, "Don't crowd me," he means it. Humans need a kind of "body buffer zone" or personal space, and when that space is violated, flight—and possibly fight—is the normal reaction, said Dr. Leslie Lothstein, an assistant psychology professor at Case Western Reserve University.

Lothstein, whose research in the long-recognized theory of personal space has dealt with the relationship between aggression and increased interpersonal space requirements, said in a recent interview that such

"human territory" may be involved when persons wind up in fights or as the victims of assault.

Persons unable to respond in a nonviolent way inherently need larger areas of personal space, Lothstein said. He called it a form of self-defense.

Lothstein suggested that teachers, school administrators and police consider concepts of personal space in dealing with hostility and violence.

"Sometimes just the laying on of a hand by a policeman violates personal space and body space, and an individual with an inflexible set of boundaries may be provoked to violence," Lothstein said.

"When a person tells us to respect his distance, it may not simply be a challenge but a plea for help, and we must respect it," he added.

He also said the need may indicate that interrogation rooms in police stations should be larger, so an individual wouldn't feel personal space was being violated.

Lothstein said personal space boundaries may include one's car, which he said represents an external body armor to many persons.

He recommended that policemen stopping a car should have the occupant get out of the car, as many officers do routinely, so the occupant wouldn't be in a position of defending his territory.

He said research indicates that being approached by a person or object is seen as more threatening than approaching the person or object.

His research with young men showed that the degree of a person's aggression could be measured by the physical distance the person placed between himself and his adversary, Lothstein said.

Lothstein said he was attempting to devise a test for "assault proneness." Other practical applications which he said should be considered are training programs for those who work with violence potential and for desensitizing those who have abnormal need for space.

Year-Round School Proves Successful

WEST CARROLLTON, Ohio (AP) — One student calls it a "bummer," but, believe it or not, that's a minority opinion about going to school all year.

There was opposition when this Montgomery County community of 20,000 initiated the year-round program in its schools last year, but most of the parents, teachers and, yes, even students seem to feel now that it has a lot going for it.

"It's here to stay, definitely and probably will expand," predicts Roger Nealeigh, the former biology teacher who coordinates the only program of this type in Ohio.

The year-round program, functioning at the junior high and one of the district's elementary schools, is what is called the 45-15 plan, meaning the students attend school for 45 days, then enjoy a 15-day vacation period, Nealeigh says. It doesn't change the number of days students are in school, but it spreads them out over the year.

Nealeigh thinks the system could be expanded. If it is, however, it would be because of parents' requests since an enrollment drop has cut the school system's need for space.

That's a change, he says, from the crowded conditions which forced adoption of the program in the first place and provided the equivalent of 21 additional classrooms.

The benefits are more than numerical, he says. A recent evaluation survey indicates that parents and teachers felt students are more responsible about learning and homework, more motivated to accomplish and more retentive of information presented.

For example, Mary Page thinks the schedule prevents her first-grade son from getting bored with school. "When he's getting tired, a vacation has rolled around," she says.

But there are complaints from some teachers who say they spend too much time shuffling schedules instead of teaching in the classroom, who say their vacation preference is for the normal longer term in the summer and who say the 45-day period is not long enough to accomplish their goals.

But Nealeigh thinks the system has proved its potential, and his goal now is "to make it work better."

Billboard Bill Wins Approval

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A bill extending the present ban on highway billboards to cover an area more than a half mile on each side of the roadway was approved 29-2 by the Senate on Tuesday.

The bill's sponsor, Sen. M. Ben Gaeth, R-1 Defiance, said the state will lose $20 million in federal highway funds if the bill is not approved.

Present law bans billboard within 660 feet of an interstate or federal-aid highway. The proposed law would extend that ban to 3,000 feet from the highway and restrict signs beyond 3,000 feet to 150 square feet in area.

The bill contains a grandfather clause allowing present billboards to remain. It also does not apply to signs advertising businesses on the same property where the sign is located.

Voting against the bill were Sens. Robert T. Secrest, D-20 Cambridge, and Jerome Stano, D-24 Parma.

Lawhorn Takes Post At Warren Reserve

John Lawhorn, Circleville High School basketball coach, has announced his resignation from the local post to take over as head cage coach at AAA Warren Western Reserve High School in Warren.

"It is with the utmost personal difficulty and considerable regret that I make my decision to resign my post as head basketball coach at Circleville to accept the head coaching position at Warren Western Reserve," coach Lawhorn stated.

"My six years association with Circleville has been a wonderfully rich and rewarding experience for me and my family, one that we will carry in our hearts forever. I would like to thank the many people who have made Circleville basketball such a great success, the players, student body, faculty, administration, parents, Booster Club and the many loyal fans of Circleville athletics."

Dr. Richard Boyd, superintendent, and Nick Angleo, athletic director, of Warren Western Reserve issued the following statement: "After interviewing coaches from five states, both on college and high school level, we are proud to name John Lawhorn as our new head basketball coach at Warren Western Reserve."

Western Reserve is in the Big Eight Conference which includes Massillon, Niles McKinley, East Liverpool, Barberton, Salem, Alliance and Warren Harding.

Lawhorn has just completed coaching the Circleville Tiger to the finest season in the school's history. They ended the season with a 22-1 and went all the way to the Regional Tournament at Dayton before meeting defeat.

They ended the season rated the No. 1 team in the Associated Press AA ratings and Lawhorn was honored by AP as the Coach of the Year in Class AA.

He came to Circleville in 1969 after a great deal of success at East Clinton and built a solid basketball program in Circleville.

In 1969-70 the Tigers were 5-14, in 1970-71 they did a complete reverse and finished the season with a 14-5 mark and won the South Central Ohio League championship.

They were 14-6 in 1971-72 and finished third in the league. The 1972-73 season saw them finish with a mark of 15-5 and share the league title. They were 13-6 in 1973-74 and again placed third in the league.

Lawhorn has a knack of building a good solid basketball program and that is why Western Reserve feels that he is the man to do the job for them in an area that has been football country.

But, Lawhorn just might make the fans sit up and realize that basketball is also quite a game.

CHS Thinlies Set Records In Final Meet

Circleville concluded another fine track season under coach Jim Lint with an eighth place finish in the tough Cyrus Fulton Relays Tuesday at Lancaster.

Lancaster tallied 43 points to win the event, but Gahanna was a close second with 42. Following in order were: Worthington, 35; Newark, 29; Wheststone, 22; Eastmoor, 19; Grove City, 13; Circleville, 12; Upper Arlington, 11; Brookhaven, 8; Westerville, 6.

Once again it was record setting night for the Tigers as they set six school records and tied one in eight events.

Here is how the Tigers fared in the events: Long Jump, (Frank Merrill, Alan Underwood, Mike McCoy), 7th 58 feet 1 3/4 inches, Circleville record; High Jump, (Frank Plescia, George Moore, Dave Phillips), 5th, 17 feet; Triple Jump, (Plescia, Moore, McCoy), 3rd, 122 feet, record tied; Shuttle Hurdles, (Phillips, Herb Sturgell, Moore, Plescia), 5th, 59.1, record.

Distance Medley, (Tom McGuire, Warren Yamarick, McCoy, Merrill), 5th, 8:56.9, record; 440 Relay, (Underwood, Harl Stevenson, Scott Simpson, Yamarick), 3rd, 45.6, record; 330 Low Hurdles, Plescia, 3rd, 40.0, record; 2-Mile Relay (Doug Palm, McCoy, Merrill, McGuire), 6th, 8:19.3, record.

Namath Leans Toward WFL

TUSCALOOSA, ALA. (AP) — Free-agent quarterback Joe Namath says he is leaning toward the World Football League's $4 million offer, which he describes as more than fair.

But leaning does not mean falling, and Namath said Tuesday he still doesn't know which way he'll go.

His other options are retirement from the game or acceptance of the New York Jets' reported million-dollar offer to reenlist with the National Football League team.

Namath, who played out his option with the Jets last season, took time out from a Tuesday round of golf to comment:

"I want to play football, and I'll play with Chicago if things work out. The people in the WFL have about got me convinced it's going to work."

"I hope the league does survive, because it creates more jobs and entertainment. There are a lot of fine players who don't have the opportunity to play now."

If he jumps to the yearling WFL, Namath would be signed by the Chicago Winds.

Winds owner Eugene Pullano held his first toe-to-toe meeting with Namath Monday night in what WFL President Chris Hemmeyer described as a big step that would tell the WFL whether it had landed the talented performer.

Namath said he met with Pullano "and we talked a bit. We are in negotiations over the contract. It's an interesting contract. I'm pleased that they're interested, and I hope it works out."

"Money at this stage is not the main consideration."

Braves Wallop Montreal, 9-4

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
AP Sports Writer

"I'm not a home run hitter," says Atlanta's Vic Correll, who'll have a hard time making National League pitchers believe it.

The 5-foot-10, 180-pound catcher walloped his eighth home run of the season as the Braves defeated the Montreal Expos 9-4 Tuesday night. It was no ordinary home run. For one thing, it was a grand slam. For another, it tied him with teammate Dusty Baker, Philadelphia's Greg Luzinski, Houston's Bob Watson and San Diego's Dave Winfield for the league home run lead.

Elsewhere, the Chicago Cubs edged the Los Angeles Dodgers 2-1, the New York Mets whipped the Cincinnati Reds 6-2, the Houston Astros downed the Philadelphia Phillies 4-2, the San Francisco Giants trimmed the Pittsburgh Pirates 12-4 and the San Diego Padres beat the St. Louis Cardinals 5-2.

In addition to his grand slam, which broke open a tight 5-4 game in the eighth inning, Correll drove in a fifth run with a third-inning single while Baker smashed a three-run homer, his eighth. Gary Carter hit a two-run shot for Montreal.

Cubs 2, Dodgers 1
Bill Bonham pitched a two-hitter and the Cubs scored twice off Don Sutton in the first inning on a run-scoring double by Bill Madlock and an RBI grounder by Adrian Garrett. One of the hits off Bonham was Lee Lacy's second home run of the season in the fourth inning.

Sutton, 7-3, took the loss despite striking out 11 and allowing only five hits.
Mets 6, Reds 2
Joe Torre's two-run homer, his first in a New York uniform, capped a four-run fifth inning and Jerry Koosman combined with Bob Apodaca to clinch a six-hitter. Rusty Staub drilled a two-out two-run double to start the scoring against Don Gullett and Torre followed with his home run.

Astros 4, Phillies 2
Cesar Cedenno walked leading off the eighth inning and came all the way home with the tiebreaking run on Bob Watson's long single to right-center off Phil's relief ace Tug McGraw. The Astros added an insurance run on Doug Rader's RBI single.

The Phillies tied the score in the top of the inning on Dave Cash's infield single with the bases loaded but Dick Allen was tagged out to cut the rally short when he overslid second base.

Giants 12, Pirates 4
Ed Halicki, making his first start since being recalled from the minors, pitched six strong innings and the Giants backed him with a 16-hit attack, including five runs in the third inning. Halicki struck out eight while Von Joshua and Willie Montanez homered.

Padres 5, Cardinals 2
Dave Winfield drove in three runs with a double and homer and Alan Foster, facing his former Cardinal teammates for the first time, settled down after falling behind 2-0 in the first inning.

The Cards, who had been shut out on a total of three hits in their last two games, scored twice on four hits in the opening inning before Foster took command.

Plescia Gains State Berth

Circleville's Frank Plescia finished second in the 120-yard high hurdles with a time of 15.4 to place second in the District finals at Marysville.

He will run 1 p.m. Friday in the State preliminaries at Ohio State University. Only the first two places in the District finals qualified for State.

Other Tigers in the District finals were: Warren Yamarick, 5th, 100-yard dash; Tom McGuire, 6th, 880; Plescia, 3rd, 180 LH; Mile Relay team (Plescia, Frank Merrill, Jim Francis, Mike McCoy); 5th, 3:30.6, a school record.

Shriners Sponsor Bus To See Reds Play

The Pickaway Shrine Club is sponsoring a bus to see the Cincinnati Reds-Philadelphia baseball game 7 p.m. Saturday.

The bus will leave Circleville at noon and a tour of the Cincinnati Shrine Burns Hospital will be conducted before the tour.

The price of the ticket includes bus fare and refreshments on the bus. Those going will have to get their own supper in Cincinnati.

Anyone interested in making the trip with the Shriners may make reservations by contacting Bob Call at Circleville Oil.

Dave Lopes of the Los Angeles Dodgers tied a 70-year-old National League record in 1974 when he stole five bases in a game against the St. Louis Cardinals.

HIT—Terry Hanson of Westfall slams a single as Teays Valley catcher Steve Williams and umpire Brent Bell watch the flight of the ball. However, the Vikings downed the Mustangs, 8-3, Tuesday on the Westfall diamond.

After playing a tight ball game for four innings, Teays Valley scored three runs in the top of the fifth and added three more in the top of the seventh to down the Westfall Mustangs, 8-3, Tuesday.

Terry Smith went all the way to gain the win. He allowed six hits, one walk and fanned two.

Chris Riddle started for the Mustangs with Craig Moore taking over in the sixth. They allowed a total of eight hits, six walks and struck out eight.

Brad Stuthard smashed a home run for Teays Valley, Steve Williams blasted a triple and two singles, while Chuck Glitt, Ron Bumgarner, Rusty Rathburn and Jim Baxter each rapped a single.

Tony Mosley, Bill Hamman, Terry Stevens, Terry Hanson, Kevin Reid and Craig Moore all had a single for the Mustangs.

Westfall tallied once in the first and two more in the bottom of the seventh. Teays Valley scored its other two runs in the top of the third inning.

Teays Valley had four errors in the game and Westfall had three.

Teays Valley will be at home 4:15 Thursday in a twinbill with Marysville and both teams will be in the Pickaway County tournament Saturday at Logan Elm.

Henson Accepts Bid To Play In All-Star Tilts

Harold (Champ) Henson, a graduate of Teays Valley High School and former fullback for the Ohio State football team, has been invited to play in the Coaches All-American June 21 in Lubbock, Texas, and the College All-Star Game Aug. 1 in Chicago, Ill.

Henson will leave for Texas on June 13 to begin practice for the game there. He will leave in late July to practice for the All-Star bout against the Super Bowl champs Pittsburgh Steelers.

Drafted in the fourth round by the Minnesota Vikings in the professional football draft of college players this year, he has still not signed a pro contract although his father, Raymond Henson, reports that he and the Viking front office are fairly close to the terms of the contract and bonus.

Henson decided to forego another year of college eligibility in favor of the possibility of gaining a pro contract.

He recently returned from the Vikings' rookie camp and will report to the regular training camp immediately after the All-Star game.

In his sophomore year at OSU Henson led the nation in touchdowns scored. He was injured early in his junior season and because of subsequent surgery was out of action the rest of the season.

This past season he shared the fullback position with sophomore Pete Johnson.

Stant Sets 3 Records At Regional Meet

Larry Stant, 1995 Ottawa Drive, a member of the Buckeye Wheelers, and the United States International Wheelchair team, set a host of swimming records over the past weekend at the Pennsylvania Regional International Qualifying Swim Meet.

He won the 25-yard freestyle, back stroke, breaststroke, setting records in each, and the 75 yard individual medley.

Stant won the same four events in the Michigan Regional Wheelchair games and established two records there. He holds three Ohio records and has twice bettered the national record for paraplegic swimmers in the 25 yard freestyle.

Red Sox Blank Oakland A's, 7-0

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer

Who's afraid of the big, bad Green Monster? Not Bill Lee.

The renowned left field wall at Fenway Park usually strikes fear into the hearts of lefthanded pitchers, but holds no terrors for the Boston southpaw.

The nonchalant left-hander had a good day Tuesday night — a two-hit beauty that led the Red Sox to a 7-0 victory over the Oakland A's. None of Oakland's formidable right-handed hitters reached the short wall — in fact none even came close.

Lee retired the first 13 batters before Sal Bando grounded a 2-1 pitch just inside third base for a double. Lee then set down 11 batters in a row before Angel Mangual got a bad-hop single leading off the ninth.

Meanwhile, Oakland's Vida Blue was having his usual problems at the Boston park. The left-handed Blue, a one-time Cy Young winner with already eight victories under his belt this year, lost his fourth game in seven lifetime decisions at Fenway Park.

While Lee was performing his pitching magic, his Boston teammates were making basesballs disappear over the fence. Jim Rice, Tony Conigliaro and Juan Beniquez belted home runs to lead the Boston attack.

In the night's other American League games, the New York Yankees beat the Kansas City Royals 6-0; the Milwaukee Brewers nipped the Texas Rangers 7-6 in 10 innings and the Minnesota Twins stopped the Detroit Tigers 5-3. The Baltimore-Chicago game was postponed by rain.

Yankees 6, Royals 0

Pat Dobson checked Kansas City on six singles. Roy White collected a triple, double and two singles and Graig Nettles homered and tripled as New York blanked the Royals.

Dobson, 3-5, walked two and struck out two in gaining his first triumph since April 26 and snapping a personal three-game losing streak.

Brewers 7, Rangers 6

George Scott tripled home the tying run in the bottom of the 10th inning and scored on Mike Hegan's grounder as Milwaukee rallied to defeat Texas. Willie Dabbs' fourth home run of the season leading off the top of 10th had given the Rangers a 6-5 lead, but Bobby Mitchell opened the Brewers' half with a single off reliever Jackie Brown and scored on Scott's triple as center fielder Davis crashed into the fence trying to catch the drive.

Tigers 5, Twins 3

Rookie Dan Meyer's two-run triple and a two-run double by Bill Freehan sparked a five-run Detroit sixth inning, leading the Tigers and Mickey Lolich over Minnesota. The outburst, aided by three Minnesota errors, came against Twins' righthander Dave Goltz, 2-4, who carried a one-hit shutout into the inning.

The portly 34-year-old Lolich pretty much abandoned his once-famous fastball to pick up his first victory since April 25 and boost his record to 4-3.

WFL Unveils 1975 Slate

NEWPORT BEACH, Calif. (AP) — The World Football League unveiled its schedule for the 1975 season Tuesday, a season which many people felt would never come to pass.

After a trouble-plagued inaugural season in 1974 in which league owners suffered multimillion dollar losses, the league underwent a general reorganization for its second campaign, which will begin on Saturday, Aug. 2 following four weeks of exhibitions. Eleven teams will play a regular season schedule which will last for 20 weeks, ending on Dec. 13.

Unlike last season, when games were played primarily on Wednesday and Thursday nights, the 1975 schedule calls for all Saturday and Sunday games except for one Friday game in August.

Opening day, Saturday, Aug. 2, lists Chicago at Birmingham, Hawaii at Philadelphia, Shreveport at San Antonio and Jacksonville at Memphis. The next day, Portland opens at Southern California.

The league's other franchise, Charlotte, begins the following week, traveling to Memphis for a game on Saturday, Aug. 9.

Sabres Win

BUFFALO (AP) — It had been a long day, hot and humid — definitely not hockey weather. But long after midnight, some 12 hours after their light pre-game skate Tuesday, the Buffalo Sabres didn't seem to mind.

Defenseman Jerry Korab said he was too tired to take a shower. "If I had a beer right now, I'd pass out," he said. But there was a smile on his face; the effort had been worth it. The 5-4 overtime triumph over the Flyers had cut Philadelphia's lead to 2-1 in the best-of-seven game National Hockey League championship series and had given the Sabres some breathing room in the heavy Buffalo air.

Hall of Famer Earl Averill holds the Cleveland home run record with 226.

State Workers Rally Slated

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Workers of state hospitals and institutions have scheduled a rally here for May 28th to protest working and patient conditions in the hospitals and to support the pending state employees' raise bill.

Herschel M. Sigall, state director of the Ohio State Government Employees Union, called for the one-day protest and has termed it a "professional study day."

James Baroni of Hawthornden State Hospital and president of Local 100 of the union, said the demonstration is a response to the recent statement of Dr. Timothy B. Moritz, Ohio Mental Health Director, that conditions in state hospitals were very poor.

Baroni said that from 1,000 to 1,500 workers from throughout the state are expected to attend the rally.

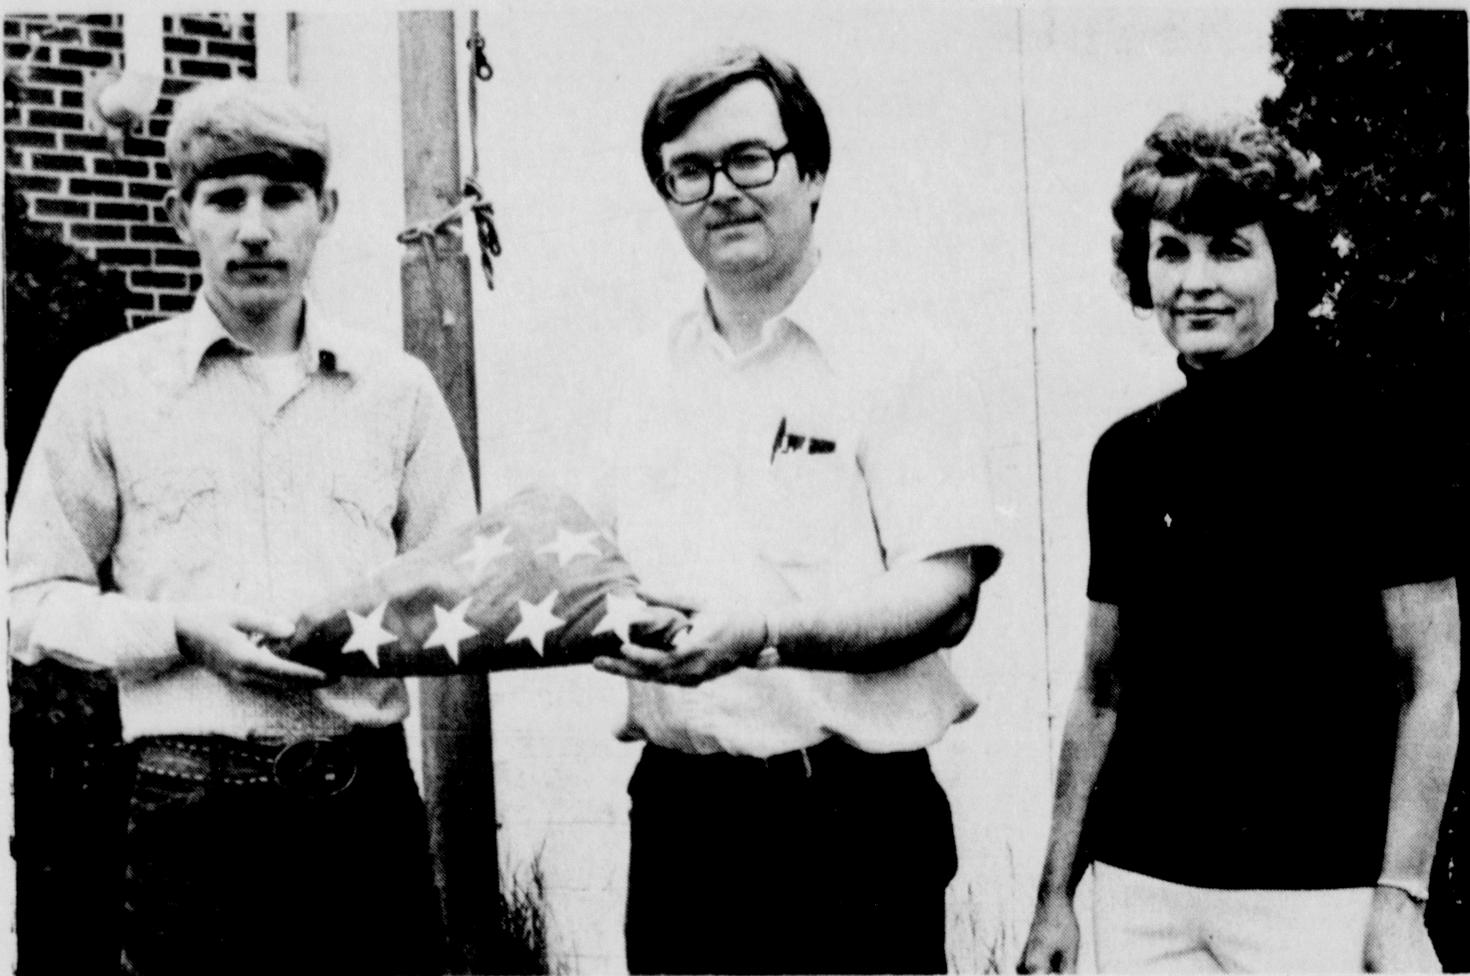

Picketer Loses Protest Placard

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP)—When a protester passed by with a sign reading "Don't Tread on Me," Mrs. Billy Graham leaped from her seat and snatched the sign away.

It all happened Tuesday in Freedom Park where President Ford and the Grahams came to celebrate the Bicentennial.

Mrs. Graham was seated near the front of the audience when the young man, identified only as a member of the antiwar Red Hornets Mayday Tribe, strolled by silently with the sign. The demonstrators claimed the true spirit of the Revolution was not reflected in the official pageantry.

Mrs. Graham, a string of pearls swinging from her neck, grabbed his sign and returned to her seat, placing the placard on the ground and resting her ribboned white pumps atop it. The demonstrator then made a move to recover it, but a friend of Mrs. Graham came and squatted on it. Police led the protester away but said he was not arrested.
